Federal tax deposits by electronic funds transfer (EFT). If your total deposits of social security, Medicare, and withheld income taxes were more than $50,000 in 1995, you must make electronic deposits for all depository tax liabilities that occur after June 30, 1997. For more information, see Electronic funds transfer (EFT) under General Information.

Air transportation excise taxes. The air transportation taxes were reinstated for travel beginning on or after August 27, 1996, and ending before January 1, 1997. See the Excise Tax Calendar in this publication for the deposit and return due dates.

Floor stocks tax on aviation fuel. If you held aviation fuel on August 27, 1996, you have to pay a floor stocks tax by March 3, 1997. See the Form 720 instructions for the first quarter of 1997.

Introduction

This publication contains a general tax calendar and two specialized tax calendars. First, use the general calendar; then, turn to the more specialized calendars if they apply to you. The specialized calendars are:

- Employer's Tax Calendar. Use this calendar if you must pay employment taxes reported on Form 941 or Form 943. You can also use it to determine deposit dates for nonpayroll withholding reported on Form 945.
- 2) Excise Tax Calendar. Use this calendar if you must pay excise taxes.

These three calendars show when to file tax returns, pay estimated tax, deposit taxes, and do other things that are required by federal tax laws. They cover the tax laws that apply to individuals, corporations, partnerships, and sole proprietorships. But they do not cover estate and gift taxes. Nor do they cover the reporting requirements for trusts, exempt organizations, or certain types of corporations.

General Information

The following brief explanations may be helpful to you in using the tax calendars.

Tax deposits. Some taxes can be paid with the return on which they are reported. However, in many cases, you have to deposit the tax before the due date for filing the return. Tax deposits are figured for periods of time that are shorter than the time period covered by the return. See the deposit rules under Employer's Tax Calendar and under Excise Tax Calendar, later.

Deposits must be made at an authorized financial institution or a Federal Reserve bank. A deposit received after the due date will be considered timely if you can establish that it was mailed at least 2 days before the due date. However, deposits of $20,000 or more by a person required to deposit the tax more than once a month must be received by the due date to be timely.

Each deposit must be accompanied by a federal tax deposit coupon, unless you are making an electronic funds transfer (discussed later). You can get the coupons you need by calling or writing the IRS.

Tax deposit coupons. Each deposit must be accompanied by a federal tax deposit (FTD) coupon, Form 8109. The coupons have spaces for indicating the type of tax you are depositing. You must use a separate coupon for each type of tax. For example, if you are depositing both excise taxes and federal unemployment taxes, you must use two coupons.

Electronic funds transfer (EFT). If your total deposits of social security, Medicare, and withheld income taxes were more than $50,000 in 1995, you must make electronic deposits for all depository tax liabilities that occur after June 30, 1997. If you were required to deposit by EFT in prior years, continue to do so in 1997. For 1998 you will be required to make deposits by EFT if your deposits of these taxes for calendar year 1996 were more than $50,000. The Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS) must be used to make electronic deposits. If you are required to make deposits by EFT and fail to do so, you may be subject to a 10% penalty.

You can choose to make deposits by EFT even though you are not required to use it. EFT allows you to make tax deposits without coupons, paper checks, or visits to an authorized depositary.

For information on EFTPS, call 1–800–945–8400 or 1–800–555–4477. (These numbers are for EFTPS information only.)

Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday. Generally, if a due date for performing any act for tax purposes falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, it is delayed until the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday. These calendars make this adjustment for Saturdays, Sundays, and most legal holidays. But you must make any adjustments for statewide legal holidays. (An exception to this rule for certain excise taxes is noted later.)

Statewide holidays. A statewide legal holiday delays a due date only if the IRS office where you are required to file is located in that state Federal holidays. Federal legal holidays for 1997 are listed below.

- January 1 New Year's Day
- January 20 Birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. and Inauguration Day
- February 17 Presidents Day
- May 26 Memorial Day
- July 4 Independence Day
- September 1 Labor Day
- October 13 Columbus Day
- November 11 Veterans Day
- November 27 Thanksgiving Day
- December 25 Christmas Day

Penalties. Whenever possible, you should take action before the listed due date. If you are late, you may have to pay a penalty as well as interest on any overdue taxes.

Be sure to follow all the tax laws that apply to you. In addition to civil penalties, criminal penalties may be imposed for intentionally not paying taxes, for intentionally filing a false return, or for not filing a required return.

General Tax Calendar

This tax calendar has the due dates for 1997 that most taxpayers will need. Employers and persons who pay excise taxes should also use the Employer's Tax Calendar and the Excise Tax Calendar.

Fiscal-year taxpayers. If you file your income tax return for a fiscal year rather than the calendar year, you must change some of the dates in this calendar. These changes are described under Fiscal-Year Taxpayers at the end of this calendar.

First Quarter

The first quarter of a calendar year is made up of January, February, and March.

January 10

Employees who work for tips. If you received $20 or more in tips during December, report them to your employer. You can use Form 4070 Employee's Report of Tips To Employer.

January 15

Individuals. Make a payment of your estimated tax for 1996 if you did not pay your income tax for the year through withholding (or did not pay in enough tax that way). Use Form 1040–ES. This is the final installment date for 1996 estimated tax. However, you do not have to make this payment if you file your 1996 return (Form 1040) and pay any tax due by January 31, 1997

Farmers and fishermen. Pay your estimated tax for 1996 using Form 1040–ES. You have until April 15 to file your 1996 income tax return (Form 1040). If you do not pay your estimated tax by this date, you must file your 1996 return and pay any tax due by March 3, 1997.

January 31

Individuals. File your income tax return (Form 1040) for 1996 if you did not pay your last installment of estimated tax by January 15. Filing your return and paying any tax due by January 31 prevents any penalty for late payment of the last installment.

- All businesses. Give annual information statements to recipients of certain payments you made during 1996. (You can use a copy of the appropriate version of Form 1099 or other information return.) Payments that are covered include:
- Compensation for workers who are not considered employees (including fishing boat proceeds to crew members).

- Dividends and other corporate distributions.
- 3) Interest.
- 4) Amounts paid in real estate transactions.
- 5) Rent.
- 6) Royalties.
- Amounts paid in broker and barter exchange transactions.
- Payments of indian gaming profits to tribal members.
- 9) Profit-sharing distributions.
- 10) Retirement plan distributions.
- 11) Original issue discount.
- 12) Prizes and awards
- 13) Medical and health care payments.
- Debt cancellation (treated as payment to debtor).
- 15) Cash payments over $10,000. (See instructions for Form 8300 Report of Cash Payments Over $10,000 Received in a Trade or Business.)

See the 1996 Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W–2G for information on what payments are covered, how much the payment must be before a statement is required, which form to use, and extension of time to provide statements.

February 10

Employees who work for tips. If you received $20 or more in tips during January, report them to your employer. You can use Form 4070.

February 18

Individuals. If you claimed exemption from income tax withholding last year on the Form W–4 you gave your employer, you must file a new Form W–4 by this date to continue your exemption for another year.

February 28

All businesses. File information returns (Form 1099) for certain payments you made during 1996. These payments are described under January 31. There are different forms for different types of payments. Use a separate Form 1096 to summarize and transmit the forms for each type of payment. See the 1996 Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W–2G for information on what payments are covered, how much the payment must be before a return is required, what form to use, and extensions of time to file.

March 3

Farmers and fishermen. File your 1996 income tax return (Form 1040) to avoid an underpayment penalty if you owe estimated tax. However, you have until April 15 to file if you paid your 1996 estimated tax by January 15, 1997.

March 10

Employees who work for tips. If you received $20 or more in tips during February, report them to your employer. You can use Form 4070

March 17

- Corporations. File a 1996 calendar year income tax return (Form 1120 or 1120–A) and pay any tax due. If you want an automatic 6-month extension of time to file the return, file Form 7004 and deposit what you estimate you owe.
- S corporations. File a 1996 calendar year income tax return (Form 1120S) and pay any tax due. Provide each shareholder with a copy of Schedule K-1 (Form 1120S), Shareholder's Share of Income, Credits, Deductions, etc., or a substitute Schedule K-1. If you want an automatic 6-month extension of time to file the return, file Form 7004 and deposit what you estimate you
- S corporation election. File Form 2553, Election by a Small Business Corporation, to choose to be treated as an S corporation, beginning with calendar year 1997. If Form 2553 is filed late, S treatment will begin with calendar year 1998.

Second Quarter

The second quarter of a calendar year is made up of April, May, and June.

April 10

Employees who work for tips. If you received $20 or more in tips during March, report them to your employer. You can use Form 4070.

April 15

Individuals. File an income tax return for 1996 (Form 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ) and pay any tax due. If you want an automatic 4-month extension of time to file the return, file Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. Then file Form 1040 or 1040A by August 15. If you want an additional 2-month extension, file Form 2688, Application for Additional Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, as soon as possible so that your application can be acted on before August 15.

If you paid cash wages of $1,000 or more in 1996 to a household employee you must file Schedule H (Form 1040 or 1040A) with your income tax return, and report any employment taxes and withheld income taxes for those employees. Report any federal unemployment (FUTA) tax on Schedule H if you paid total cash wages of $1,000 or more in any calendar quarter of 1995 or 1996 to household employees. For more information, see Publication 926.

Individuals. If you are not paying your 1997 income tax through withholding (or will not pay in enough tax during the year that way), pay the first installment of your 1997 estimated tax. Use Form 1040–ES. For more information, see Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Partnerships. File a 1996 calendar year return (Form 1065). Provide each partner with a copy of Schedule K-1 (Form 1065), Partner's Share of Income, Credits, Deductions, etc., or a substitute Schedule K-1. If you want an automatic 3-month extension of time to file the return and provide Schedule K-1, file Form 8736. Then file Form 1065 by July 15. If you need an additional 3-month extension, file Form 8800.

However, if you are a participant in a combat zone you may be able to further extend the filing deadline. See Publication 3, Armed Forces Tax Guide.

Individuals. Make a payment of your 1997 estimated tax if you are not paying your income tax for the year through withholding (or will not pay in enough tax that way). Use Form 1040–ES. This is the second installment date for estimated tax in 1997. For more information, see Publication 505.

Fiscal-Year Taxpayers

If you use a fiscal year (rather than the calendar year) as your tax year, you should change some of the dates in this calendar. Use the following general guidelines to make these changes.

Note. The 3 months that make up each quarter of a fiscal year may be different from those of each calendar quarter, depending on when the fiscal year begins.

Individuals

Form 1040 is due on the 15th day of the fourth month after the end of your tax year.

Estimated tax payments (Form 1040–ES) are due on the 15th day of the 4th, 6th, and 9th months of your tax year and on the 15th day of the first month after your tax year ends.

Partnerships

Form 1065 is due on the 15th day of the fourth month after the end of the partnership's tax year. Provide each partner with a copy of Schedule K-1 (Form 1065), or a substitute Schedule K-1.

Corporations and S Corporations

Form 1120 and Form 1120S (or Form 7004) are due on the 15th day of the third month after the end of the corporation's tax year. S Corporations must provide each shareholder with a copy of Schedule K-1 (Form 1120S), or a substitute Schedule K-1.

Estimated tax payments are due on the 15th day of the 4th, 6th, 9th, and 12th months of the corporation's tax year.

Form 2553, used to choose S corporation treatment, is due by the 15th day of the third month of the first tax year to which the choice will apply or at any time during the preceding tax year.

Employer's Tax Calendar

This calendar covers various due dates of interest to employers. Principally, it covers the following three federal taxes:

- Income tax that you withhold from your employees' wages or from nonpayroll amounts you pay out.
- Social security and Medicare taxes (FICA taxes) that you withhold from your employees' wages and the social security and Medicare taxes you must pay as an employer.
- 3) Federal unemployment (FUTA) tax that you must pay as an employer.

The calendar lists due dates both for filing returns and for making deposits of these three taxes throughout the year.

These taxes are reported on:

- Form 940 (or 940-EZ)
- Form 941
- Form 943
- Form 945

Fiscal-year taxpayers. The dates in this calendar apply whether you use a fiscal year or a calendar year as your tax year. The only exception is the date for filing Forms 5500, 5500–EZ, and 5500–C/R. These forms are due by the last day of the 7th month after the plan year ends. See July 31, later.

Returns

Form 940 (or 940–EZ). Use this form to report federal unemployment (FUTA) tax. Form 940 is an annual return, due one month after the calendar year ends. Form 940–EZ is a simplified version of Form 940 that can be used by most employers. If you had household employees, you can include the FUTA taxes for those employees on Form 940 (or 940–EZ), or on Schedule H (Form 1040 or 1040A) that you file with your tax return.

Form 941. Use this form to report social security and Medicare taxes and withheld income taxes on wages if your employees are not farm workers. Form 941 is a quarterly return, due one month after the calendar quarter ends. If you had household employees, you can include the taxes for those employees on Form 941, or on Schedule H (Form 1040 or 1040A) that you file with your income tax return.

Form 943. Use this form to report social security and Medicare taxes and withheld income taxes on wages if your employees are farm workers. If you had household employees, you can include the taxes for those employees on Form 943, or on Schedule H (Form 1040 or 1040A) that you file with your income tax return. Form 943 is an annual return, due one month after the calendar year ends.

Form 945. Use this form to report income tax withheld on all nonpayroll items, including backup withholding and withholding on pensions, annuities, gambling winnings, and payments of Indian gaming profits to tribal members. Form 945 is an annual return, due one month after the calendar year ends.

Extended due dates. If you deposit, in full and on time, the tax you are required to report on either Form 940, 941, 943, or 945, you have an additional 10 days to file that form.

Deposit Rules

Generally, there are two deposit rules—monthly or semiweekly—for determining when you deposit social security, Medicare, and withheld income taxes on wages reported on Form 941 or on Form 943. These deposit rules apply to income tax withheld on nonpayroll items reported on Form 945. The rules do not apply to deposits of federal unemployment tax, discussed later.

You determine at the start of a calendar year based on the lookback period whether you will deposit monthly or semiweekly. However, see One-day rule, later.

Separate deposits. Do not combine deposits of taxes reported on Form 941, Form 943, and Form 945. For example, deposit payroll taxes (social security, Medicare, and withheld income taxes), which you report on Form 941, separately from your deposits of withheld income tax on nonpayroll items reported on Form 945.

Lookback period for Form 941. The lookback period for calendar year 1997 is the third and fourth quarters of 1995 and the first and second quarters of 1996.

Lookback period for Form 943. The lookback period for calendar year 1997 is calendar year 1995.

Lookback period for Form 945. The lookback period for calendar year 1997 is calendar year 1995.

New employers and payers. New employers are treated as having no tax liability during the quarters they had no employees. New payers of nonpayroll items are treated as having no tax liability during the calendar years they make no such payments. These persons are subject to the monthly deposit rules (discussed later) until taxes reported in the appropriate lookback period are more than $50,000. However, if the accumulated taxes are $100,000 or more on any day during a deposit period, the one-day rule provisions discussed later apply.

Monthly or Semiweekly Deposits

You generally deposit taxes under either a monthly rule or a semiweekly rule. There is a one-day rule for accumulated taxes of $100,000 or more and a de minimis rule for accumulated taxes of less than $500. See One-day rule and De minimis rule, later.

Each of the rules apply separately to deposits of taxes reported on Form 941, Form 943, and Form 945. Do not combine the amounts to determine which deposit rule applies.

Monthly deposit rule. You are subject to the monthly deposit rule for a calendar year if the total amount of taxes reported in the lookback period is not more than $50,000.

Deposit the taxes accumulated for payments made during each month by the 15th day of the following month.

Semiweekly deposit rule. You are subject to the semiweekly deposit rule for a calendar year if the total amount of taxes reported in the lookback period is more than $50,000.

- Deposit taxes accumulated for payments made on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday during each week by the following Wednesday, and
- Deposit taxes accumulated for payments made on Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday during each week by the following Friday.

Semiweekly period in two return periods. If a return period (quarterly or annual) ends on a day other than a Tuesday or Friday, taxes you accumulated during the days covered by the two return periods must be deposited separately with two deposit coupons.

Special rule for non-banking days. In addition to Federal and state holidays, Saturdays and Sundays are non-banking days. Semiweekly depositors are allowed at least 3 banking days after the end of a semiweekly period to make a deposit. This rule does not apply if you are subject to the One-day rule discussed later.

Example 1. Company X determines its Form 945 tax deposit rule based on the lookback period for calendar year 1997. Because the total amount of Form 945 taxes reported for calendar year 1995 is not more than $50,000, Company X is subject to the monthly deposit rule for its Form 945 taxes for calendar year 1997.

Company X deposits Form 945 taxes accumulated during each month of calendar year 1997 by the 15th day of the following month.

Example 2. Company X determines its Form 941 tax deposit rule based on the lookback period for calendar year 1997. Because the total amount of Form 941 taxes reported for the four quarters in the lookback period is more than $50,000, Company X is subject to the semiweekly deposit rule for its Form 941 taxes for calendar year 1997.

Company X deposits Form 941 taxes accumulated on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday paydays during each week of the year by the following Wednesday, and taxes accumulated on Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday paydays during each week of the year by the following Friday.

One-day rule. If the amount of your accumulated taxes for a form is $100,000 or more on any day during a deposit period, either monthly or semiweekly, deposit the taxes by the next banking day. If you are under the monthly deposit rule for that return's taxes, you immediately become subject to the semiweekly deposit rule for those taxes for the rest of the calendar year and the following calendar year.

De minimis rule. If your accumulated taxes for a form for the return period are less than $500, no deposits are required. You can pay the taxes with your return. However, if you are unsure that you will accumulate less than $500 for the return period, you can avoid any failure-to-deposit penalties by depositing the taxes under the deposit rule determined from the lookback period for the return.

Safe harbors. You will meet the deposit requirements if any shortfall does not exceed the greater of (1) $100 or (2) 2% of the amount of taxes otherwise required to be deposited and you deposit the shortfall as follows:

1) Monthly deposit rule:

Deposit the shortfall by the due date of the related return (Form 941, Form 943, or Form 945).

2) Semiweekly deposit rule:

Deposit the shortfall by the earlier of the return due date covering that deposit, or the first Wednesday or Friday, whichever is earlier, on or after the 15th day of the month following the month the deposit was required to be made.

Penalties

If you do not deposit social security, Medicare, and withheld income taxes on time with an authorized financial institution or a Federal Reserve bank, you may have to pay a penalty. In addition, the IRS can require you to file monthly returns for these taxes on Form 941–M

Federal tax deposit penalties. The penalty for a late tax deposit is based on the length of time the deposit is late. The following penalties apply for late deposits:

- 1) If the deposit is not more than 5 days late, the penalty is 2% of the underpayment.
- If the deposit is more than 5 days late but not more than 15 days late, the penalty is 5% of the underpayment.
- If the deposit is more than 15 days late, the penalty is 10% of the underpayment.
- If the deposit is not made within 10 days after IRS issues the first notice demanding payment, the penalty is 15% of the underpayment.

Trust fund recovery penalty. If you do not withhold social security, Medicare, and income taxes from employees, or you withhold the taxes but do not pay them to IRS or deposit them, you may be subject to a penalty equal to the unpaid trust fund tax. If you are the person responsible for the collection and payment of withholding taxes, you can be subject to this penalty even if you are an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership.

Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax

For unemployment tax reported on Form 940 (or 940–EZ), the calendar year is divided into four deposit periods. Each period is a calendar quarter, ending on March 31, June 30, September 30, or December 31. If you owe more than $100 in undeposited federal unemployment tax on any of these dates, you must deposit what you owe by the end of the next month. If you owe $100 or less at the end of the year (for example, 1997), you can either deposit it within one month (by February 2, 1998) or pay it when you file Form 940 (also by February 2, 1998).

If you fail to deposit federal unemployment tax on time, you may have to pay a penalty. In the fourth quarter, be sure to check Form 940 to see whether any additional deposits will be required because of a credit reduction for employers in your state.

Excise Tax Calendar

This calendar covers the excise taxes that are reported on the following forms:

- Form 11–C, Occupational Tax and Registration Return for Wagering
- Form 720, Quarterly Federal Excise Tax Return
- Form 730, Tax on Wagering
- Form 2290, Heavy Vehicle Use Tax Return

The calendar gives the due dates both for filing returns and making deposits of these excise taxes during 1997

Use this calendar with Publication 510. Publication 510 covers the excise taxes reported on Forms 11–C, 720, and 730.

Fiscal-year taxpayers. The dates in this calendar apply whether you use a fiscal year or the calendar year as your tax year.

Returns

Form 2290. Use this form to pay the federal use tax on heavy highway vehicles registered in your name. You must file a return by the last day of the month following the month of the vehicle's first taxable use in the tax period. The tax period begins on July 1 and ends the following June 30. You must pay the full year's tax on all vehicles you have in use during the month of July. You must also pay a partial-year tax on taxable vehicles that you put into use in a month after July.

For example, when the tax year begins each July, you must report the tax on all vehicles in use in July on a return filed by August 31. If you begin to use another vehicle in October, you must file an additional return by November 30. If any due date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, file on the next business day.

You can pay the tax in a single payment with your return or in as many as four equal installments. You cannot use the installment method for a vehicle which you first use in April, May, or June. You must pay the first installment when you file the return. The later installments are due on the last day of December, March, and June. The month in which you first owed the tax determines how many installments you pay. See the instructions for Form 2290.

Form 11-C. Use this form to register any wagering activity and to pay a special tax (called an occupational tax) on wagering. You must file Form 11-C if you are in the business of accepting wagers, including conducting a wagering pool or lottery, or are an employee-agent of someone who accepts wagers. You must file the form before you begin accepting wagers. After that, you must file the form by July 1 of each year.

For example, if you begin accepting wagers on April 5, 1997, you must file Form 11-C before that date and again by July 1, 1997. Also see Form 730, next.

Form 730. Use this form to pay an excise tax on wagers you accept. The form must be filed monthly, by the last day of the month following the month the bets were accepted. Also see Form 11-C, above.

Form 720. Use this form to report a wide variety of excise taxes, including:

- 1) Communications and air transportation taxes.
- 2) Fuel taxes.
- 3) Luxury tax.
- 4) Retail tax.
- 5) Ship passenger tax.
- 6) Manufacturers taxes.
- 7) Vaccine taxes.

Form 720 is a quarterly return that generally must be filed by the last day of the month following a calendar quarter. However, if you are reporting communications, air transportation, or ozone-depleting chemicals taxes, Form 720 is due by the last day of the second month following the quarter.

Only one return. If you are reporting two or more excise taxes and they are due on different dates, use the later filing date. File only one Form 720.

Reporting semimonthly net tax liability. Semimonthly net tax liability for taxes in Part I of Form 720 is reported on Schedule A, Excise Tax Liability.

Adjustments. If you have any adjustments or claims to the total tax on Form 720, Part III, line 3, complete Schedule C, Adjustments and Claims

Other forms. Depending on the type of excise tax you are reporting, you may have to attach another form to your Form 720. See the Form 720 and its instructions for these forms.

Deposit Rules

You may be allowed to pay excise taxes in full with the return or you may be required to deposit them before the return is due.

Generally, the excise taxes that are reported on Forms 2290, 11-C, and 730 are paid when the returns are filed. But Form 720 excise taxes generally must be deposited semimonthly before the quarterly return is due, as explained later under When to Deposit.

Form 720 Taxes

Although you are generally required to deposit Form 720 taxes before the return is due, some of these taxes are excluded from that requirement.

Not required to be deposited. You are not required to make deposits of the taxes (other than floor stocks taxes) reported in Part II of Form 720. In addition, you are not required to make deposits of taxes reported as a one-time filing, as discussed next.

Pay these taxes in full when you file Form

One-time filings. If you import for personal use a luxury passenger automobile or gas guzzling car, you may be eligible to make a onetime filing of Form 720. You qualify to make this one-time filing and pay the luxury tax or gas guzzler tax in full with the return (no deposits are required) if you meet all of the following conditions:

- 1) You do not use the luxury automobile or gas guzzling car in any trade or business.
- 2) You do not import luxury automobiles or gas guzzling cars in your trade or business.
- 3) You are not required to file the Form 720 reporting excise taxes for the quarter, except for the one-time filings.

Floor stocks tax on ODCs. If you are liable for the floor stocks tax on ozone-depleting chemicals (ODCs) held on January 1,1997, you must deposit that tax by June 30, 1997. The Form 720 reporting the 1997 floor stocks tax is due by September 2, 1997.

Floor stocks tax on aviation fuel. If you are liable for the floor stocks tax on aviation fuel held on August 27, 1996, you must pay that tax by March 3, 1997. The Form 720 reporting this floor stocks tax is due by April 30, 1997.

When to Deposit

You are not required to make deposits if your net tax liability for the calendar quarter does not exceed $2,000. You pay the tax when you file Form 720.

If deposits are required, you make them for a semimonthly period. The first semimonthly period of a month is its first 15 days, and the second semimonthly period is the 16th day through the last day of the month. The liability for each semimonthly period can be figured by dividing the liability for the month by two. If you use this method, you must use it for all semimonthly periods in the calendar quarter.

9-day rule. Most of the taxes reported on Form 720 are deposited under the 9-day rule. Under the 9-day rule, you must deposit taxes for a semimonthly period by the 9th day following that period. The deposit of tax for the first semimonthly period of a month is due by the 24th day of that month and the deposit for the second semimonthly period is due by the 9th day of the following month.

The 9-day rule applies to the taxes listed in Part 1 of Form 720 except as discussed under One-time filings, earlier, and under the following rules.

Alternative method. Deposits of communications and air transportation taxes can be based on amounts billed or tickets sold (the alternative method) during a semimonthly period instead of on taxes actually collected during the period. Under the alternative method, taxes are considered collected during the first 7 days of the second semimonthly period following the semimonthly period in which the amounts were billed or the tickets were sold. The deposit of tax is due 3 banking days after the end of that first week. For example, the tax included in amounts billed from 1-1-97 through 1-15-97 is considered collected during the period 2-1-97 through 2-7-97, and must be deposited by 2-12-97.

14-day rule. Deposits of gasoline and diesel fuel taxes for a semimonthly period by an independent refiner or any person whose average daily production of crude oil for the preceding calendar quarter did not exceed 1,000 barrels can be made by the 14th day following the semimonthly period. The deposit must be made by transfer between accounts with the same government depositary. If the 14th day is a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the due date is the immediately preceding day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday.

The 14-day rule does not apply to deposits of the tax on dyed diesel fuel used in trains or in certain intercity or local buses

30-day rule. Deposits of the ozone-depleting chemicals tax for a semimonthly period are due by the end of the second following semimonthly period.

September deposit rules. All excise taxes that must be deposited are subject to special September deposit rules. Under these rules, you must make a deposit by September 28 or. if you are required to make deposits by electronic funds transfer (EFT), September 29.

The period covered by the special September deposit rules depends on the deposit rule you use for your semimonthly deposits and whether you are required to make deposits by EFT. The taxes for the remaining part of the semimonthly period are deposited on the normal due date.

9-day and 14-day rules. Deposit taxes for the period beginning September 16 and ending September 25. However, deposit by EFT the taxes for the period beginning September 16 and ending September 26.

Alternative method. Deposit communications tax included in the amounts billed during the period beginning September 1 and ending September 10. However, deposit by EFT the communications tax included in the amounts billed during the period beginning September 1 and ending September 11.

30y-day rule. Deposit the tax for the last 16 days of August and the period beginning September 1 and ending September 10. However, deposit by EFT the tax for the last 16 days of August and the period beginning September 1 and ending September 11.

Saturday or Sunday. If the due date (September 28 or 29) for the special September deposit falls on a Saturday, the deposit is due on the preceding Friday. If the due date falls on a Sunday, the deposit is due on the following Monday. The excise tax calendar has been adjusted for this provision.
