Instructions for Shareholder

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code.

The regulated investment company (RIC) has elected under the Internal Revenue Code to keep and pay income tax on certain net capital gain income it received during its tax year. As a shareholder, you are required to report your share of this gain on your income tax return. This income is not reported to you on Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions.

Line 1.—Shareholders who are individuals report this amount on Schedule D (Form 1040), Part II, line 12. Shareholders that are corporations report this amount on Schedule D (Form 1120), Part II, line 6. Get Pub. 564, Mutual Fund Distributions.

Line 2.—This line contains your share of the tax paid by the RIC on the net capital gain income it did not distribute. You can get a refund or credit of this tax as follows:

- Individuals, Fiduciaries, Partnerships, and Corporations.—See the instructions for your tax return.
- Nonresident Aliens.—See Form 1040NR.

- Foreign Corporations.—See Form 1120-F.
- Exempt Organizations and Certain Trustees.—Organizations exempt from tax under section 501(a) (and to which section 511 does not apply) claim their refund by completing and filing Form 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return, as follows:

1. Complete the heading (using the name and employer identification number (EIN) of the exempt organization) and signature area,
2. Enter the credit on line 44e, and
3. At the top of the return, write “Claim for Refund Shown on Form 2439.”

Trustees for individual retirement arrangements (IRAs) described in section 408 (including a custodial account described in section 408(h)) file a single composite Form 990-T to claim their refund. See the Instructions for Form 990-T.

Note: A trustee or custodian of an IRA should not send a copy of Form 2439 to the owner of the IRA.

- Nominees.—If you are not the actual owner of the shares for which this form is issued, you must take the following steps within 90 days

2. Enter your name as “Nominee” and your address, as well as that of the RIC, in the block provided for the RIC’s address.
